Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The feature of storing an enhanced reliability testing flag in the integrated circuit device associated with a unique identification code of each integrated circuit device renders the invention novel and non-obvious over the prior art. The closest prior art is limited to teaching the storing of different operational modes within a chip (Jeon et al.; Fig. 3, 4; col. 58 et seq.) or marking a wafer with a unique code and then storing testing data on a separate medium (Yabe, Fig. 6a-6b), wherein the combination of these references to arrive at the claimed invention is regarded as non-obvious. Further, although Benedix et al. (Abstract) teaches the storing of test results within the chip this reference does not have a proper date.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
